IAS MAY 2017 PRESIDENT'S REPORT

THE IPSWICH ART SOCIETY INC WOULD LIKE TO THANK ALL THE MOTHERS OUT THERE FOR THEIR MANY SACRIFICES OVER THE YEARS GONE BY TO THE REARING AND ONGOING SUPPORT TO THOSE LITTLE BUNDLES THAT JUST GREW AND GREW....NOW DOCTORS, DENTISTS, ARTISTS, TRADSMEN AND THE FUTURE OF OUR GROWING NATION....As a stand in spokeswoman for our President, Garry Broadhurst while he is traveling, I know he is visiting his Mum on his journey to tell her of his adventures. I'm sure I speak for Garry and the many other sons who will visit, pick up the phone or remember their Mum's on May the 14th. The day set aside to spoil and reminisce with the only person who truly loves you no matter what life serves up. Girls are different, they are, unknowingly, apprentice Mum's, they are genetically wired with an inbuilt understanding of what emphasis Mum's put on their special day of days. The continuance of which they all are in favour. Judy

Talking about mothers!

A women's poem

He didn't like the casserole
He didn't like my cake
He said my biscuits were too hard,
Not like his mother used to make,
I didn't make the coffee right,
He didn't like my stew,
I didn't fold his pants,
The way his mother used to do
I pondered for an answer, I was looking for a clue,
Then I turned around and smacked the s---t right out of him,
Just like his mother used to do.

THANK GOD FOR MOTHERS. WHEN DID THE HAND THAT ROCKS THE CRADLE STARTED TO ROCK THE WORLD?

It all started about 500 years ago when the genre of portraiture emerged during the Renaissance, artists turned to family members as subjects. German printmaker Albrecht Durer was one of the first to capture his mother on paper, portraying her as an aging yet regal woman. Mothers were readily available and affordable and made great models so yet again what would they have done without their Mums.

Albrecht Durer “The Artist’s Mother” 1490-1514

James Abbott McNeill Arrangement in Grey and Black, No 1. (Portrait of the Artists’ Mother. 1871

Anna McNeill Whistler—depicted seated in profile and staring forward—has become an icon of puritanical motherhood, and has featured on national stamps and town monuments. (A statue of her in Pennsylvania is even accompanied by the phrase “A Mother Is the Holiest Thing Alive”. Legend has it that the subject matter of this painting is a mere happy accident: When Whistler’s model did not show up, his mother stepped in to pose for her son. “To me, it is interesting as a picture of my mother,” Whistler explains in his book The Gentle Art of Making Enemies. “But what can or ought the public to care about the identity of the portrait?” In fact, the public cared quite a bit, enough to effectively rename the painting Whistler’s Mother from its original title Arrangement in Grey and Black No. 1.

THAT’S IT FOR THIS MONTH FOLKS,
JUDY
